Pastor's Page

As of September, 2023, I have been serving our congregation for three years. I was told in seminary that the average first call pastor lasts three years in the first congregation they serve. An extremely lazy attempt to google this statistic could not confirm it, but I had tucked it away in the back of my brain with Greek conjugation and the order of the seven plagues, just in case it was useful. As it turns out, I either slept in at seminary the day they went over what to do when your first call begins with the appearance of one of the aforementioned seven plagues in the form of a worldwide pandemic or they just forgot to go over that altogether. Suffice to say, nothing about our time together has been average, so if it's alright with you guys, I've decided I'd like to stick around for a bit longer. If it's not alright with you, please call the church office sooner rather than later. I have a lot of books and I should probably start packing. (Victoria is not going to like this joke, but I'm not going to let her delete it from the Chimes.)

I am so grateful for the patience and kindness that each of you has shown me over the past three years. I am grateful for the gentle correction you have provided, and I hope that as we embark on our next chapter together, you will continue to help me grow. I am only able to do that with your assistance. I hope you will offer ideas and feedback, and I hope you know three years into this not to be scared off by my face. (It just looks like that! I get it from my dad!) I promise, I am smart enough to know that I don't know everything. I want to continue to learn to be the best pastor I can be, and I hope that I am serving God's church better tomorrow than I am today. I hope I get to do that alongside you because you are the best co-workers in Christ that I could have.

I have, on occasion, over the past three years heard us described as a small congregation, but I want to take a moment to dust off a different factoid rattling around in the back of my head. According to Gallup, in the early 2000s, the average congregation was 150-200 people. In January of 2020, before the pandemic, the average congregation in the US was 75-80 people. First of all, we're not small. We're normal. Second of all, it's easy to allow comparison to steal our joy, and to tell ourselves that if we were just bigger or if we just had access to this resource or that staff member then we could accomplish what we want. So let me ask you a question. What can a congregation accomplish with a staff of 80 people? Sometimes, when the apostle Paul is addressing the church in scripture, he addresses his "coworkers in Christ." That's you guys. It's not just me, Victoria, Marcus, Eva, and Laurel. It's not just the council. It's each and every baptized believer of Christ who gathers in this space. So let's pray

Immanuel's Caruthers Fair Food Booth

It's fair time—prayer time folks, This year marks our 20th year that Immanuel has hosted a food booth at the Caruthers Fair. I first thought this was the craziest idea ever. Ye of little faith. It was my first year working as office secretary. When this was proposed at the church council meeting I was certain a few of my fellow church members had lost their minds. I thought they had no clue what they/we were in for. Now I wonder how I could of doubted God is with us. Our church members trusted God and knew He would make this a good thing. The council took the opportunity and said YES we don't know why but we do know GOD IS WITH US and in this! The church volunteers gathered and learned how to be a restaurant at the fair and the booth was a success! The church decided that the money should go to a place God would bless and good things would rise forth and prosper from. That place was The Fresno Rescue Mission, which has now become so much more than just a rescue mission.

Through the help and support of organizations and churches like ours the now named: Fresno Mission has embarked on sharing God's love through Bible studies and discipleship programs to help solve the problems that plague those who are lost, alone, or mentally ill. To hear the work of God through the disciples voices each year at the Easton Community Thanksgiving Eve Service is powerful. It's hard not to shed a tear or drop a jaw when listening to the stories from these amazing disciples that have worked through the Bible with the love and guidance of The Fresno Mission. I have seen and heard God's miraculous work from those Thanksgiving testimonies. God is powerful through the support and guidance that The Fresno Mission gives to those who come to share on Thanksgiving Eve. It is very humbling. Our walk on this Earth is different for each and every one of us and we are never to take one day for granted.

There are so many ways to help with this project, most importantly is to remember this mission project in prayer. This is our teamwork, our shared duty, our love for our brothers and sisters who need the word of God shared with them. This is our work not for us but for those who do not know God. We are called to make Christ known.

Sign up sheets for volunteers will be out for all four Sundays in September. Save some time, take a day off from your normal work if you can, wear your most comfortable close toed shoes and come spend some time in Immanuel's Caruthers Fair Food Booth. You will be glad you did, and you just might want to come back again and again. There is a God given adrenaline at that place. I can't be the only one that feels it. Can I?

Victoria Salwasser,
God Blessed Fair Booth Enthusiast!

together as coworkers, how do we want to serve the Lord in the next chapter?

There's a lot of directions we could take this—the social hall, attendance, programs. I want to see us move and develop in each of these areas as well. The part of my brain that loves stats and tidy numbers to tuck away and pull out is so tempted to put a timelines and goals to each of those areas and say, "We're going to do it by this date! Or have this many people! Or this much money!" But what would it profit me as a pastor to have a beautiful building and full pews if our congregation wasn't praying for each other? What would it profit you to have a thriving praise band and full pews if our children didn't know the stories of the Bible? I want us to have goals. I want us to be bold in what we ask of God. I just want us to put the first things first and trust God to lead the way. He will lead us just like he lead the Israelites through the desert with fire and cloud. It may take longer than we would like and we may go with much grumbling about the lack of garlic and leeks and how long it takes, but if you will allow me for a second, to lean on our brother Moses—in this next chapter, we go following God, we go together, we go supporting one another, we go carrying the word of God into the desert where we dwell. These are the goals I propose for myself, and for you, my beloved coworker in Christ:

1. Pray for your church daily. Pray for her people. Pray for her leaders. Pray for her building. You can be specific. You can be vague. Be still and listen afterwards.
2. Read scripture often. Some of you are already in it daily, keep up the good work. Maybe pick one book of the Bible to dig into for a while. Some of you don't have that habit—you can start by just reading scripture once a week. Pick a verse to memorize. John starts his Gospel with the proclamation that, "In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God and the Word was God." Spend some time with God during your week. Let him change your life. Let him work in it and in our church.
3. Carry the word of God with you. The Israelites walked around with the Ten Commandments in the Ark of the Covenant. As you are going into the world, share the word of God in thought, word, and deed, just as Christ asked of the apostles during the Great Commission. You've been baptized, so you've been qualified.
4. Follow the Shepherd. We're walking through the valley of the shadow of death together as silly, scared, sanctified sheep. If we spend time in prayer and in the word of God, then I truly believe the Holy Spirit will guide, protect, and lead us. The rod and staff of our Lord and savior will comfort us.

Those are my goals. Thanks for coming to the staff meeting. The harvest is plentiful, let's get to work.

Blessings, Pastor Taylor

Journey

So this month I'd like us to think about the importance of praying through the grieving process. To be honest, when someone close to us passes our first thought may not be to pray. Or maybe that's just me. If you've been in charge of affairs when someone transitions to eternity, you know that there is a seemingly unending list of things to be sure get done. If there was no pre-planning on the deceased's part, there are the immediate issues of planning a funeral. Burial or cremation. What clothes to bury them in. Open or closed casket. What quality of casket. What cemetery. What kind of service, church service or graveside or both? What scriptures. What songs. Pallbearers to decide upon. When you get all that taken care of then you start with who needs to be notified. Social security, life insurance, pension, doctors and on and on it goes. Here's a little plug to help those who remain. Even if you are middle aged and healthy make a list of scriptures you identify with, songs that speak to you. Take time to go to the funeral home and pre pay and discuss your burial preferences. Make a list of your accounts and policy numbers, SSI number. Who your phone service is with, car and home insurance carriers. Make a list, then tell someone where that list is. That would be a great gift to your loved ones. And of course make a living will. Immanuel has a wonderful booklet to help with this process. Call the church office if you would like a copy.

Anyway, back to praying. If you are a believer, then you know the importance of prayer. It shouldn't be an afterthought it needs to be the first thought. As someone dear to you approaches that transition, pray for freedom from pain. Pray for peace for that loved one. They say that hearing is the last sense that shuts down. Even if they are unconscious, speak to them, tell them how much you love them. Remind them of good times and memories that you've shared with them. Pray out loud to God next to them for God to surround them and hold them. Tell them that you will be sad but that you will also be alright, that you will miss them and that you will carry on. It was important for me to tell Cindy that she could let go and let God take her home, that I would take care of the kids. After they pass, pray that God will bless them and hold them tight. Ask God to hold you tight as well. When you feel like crying ask God to cry with you. Ask him to comfort you and reassure you that your loved one is also being

Immanuel's Trustee Report

Our church has been undergoing quite a few changes this summer. At the Semi-Annual Meeting we voted to paint the outside of the Sanctuary. It's a much needed, 10 year overdue project. At time of print the painters are scraping away all the old paint and sealing all the cracks in the stucco and, two new fiberglass doors have replaced the wood doors that were rotted by years in the sun and rain. New and repaired rain gutters will be installed as well as new plastic protection over the stained glass crosses. Praise be to God for the gift from Florence Johnston's estate that helped fund this project.

Water safety has been an off and on issue for Immanuel. Many years ago Immanuel began sharing water with the Easton Presbyterian church. Since they run a preschool their water testing requirements are the most stringent. Since we use their water we must conform to the same requirements. Currently the test results conclude slightly higher than allowed test results for nitrates and DBCP. Both of these contaminants need different types of filtration to remove. Immanuel is working with Easton Presbyterian Church and KJ Water Services to filter the water that enters our buildings for drinking. This project includes separating the flow of irrigation water from building water so that we filter only drinking water. This is where we are in the process. For now, we will drink bottled water and hope the project comes together as quickly as possible without too many snags. The trustees thank you for your patience and will keep you updated on the process.

Thank you for your Love and Prayers

Prayers for the family of Murray Cline McCann. Murray passed away on July 29, 2023. He grew up at Immanuel before he traveled the world. He worked in New Your City and Beverly Hills as an interior designer. He was the son of Murray and Gladys McCann. He is survived by his sister, Sharon Duckworth and many nieces, nephews and friends. A memorial service and a celebration of his life was held at Immanuel on August 26th.

Prayers for the family of Larry Pedersen who grew up attending Immanuel and passed on August 18th after a battle with cancer. He was the son of Henry and Evelyn Pedersen, brother in law of Joy Pedersen and the uncle of Scott Pedersen. He was the nephew of Carl Jensen and the cousin of John Jensen, Ellen Vike and many more. A funeral service and a celebration of his life was held for Larry at Immanuel Saturday, August 19th.

Sympathy love and prayers for the family of Diane Mehrten she passed away peacefully on August 28th in her home. A Memorial Service and Celebration of Life will be held at 11:00AM on Saturday October 7th at Immanuel.

Thank you all for your prayers for Austin and Rachel Bratton, we sent an email prayer request out for this couple, Laurel Jacobsen's grandson and his wife. Austin and Rachel were vacationing in Lahaina, Maui when the wildfires broke out. They were blessed by God's protection in so many ways. Their accommodations ended up being 4 miles from downtown Lahaina. They were able to receive sporadic use of their cell phone, and with the help of his mother via text from Kingsburg found a helicopter pad that transported stranded folks to the other side of the Island. There they were able to get food, help with the evacuation process and enjoy some time with the evacuated kids on the beach. They experienced kindness from strangers, showed kindness to strangers and found peace in prayer and song. They arrived home safely on their scheduled flight. Please continue to pray for the people of the island of Maui. The devastation and loss is inconceivable.

Thank you to the Thursday morning Men's Bible Study who donated $250.00 to the American Red Cross for the Maui Fire Relief Fund.

Thank you Immanuel for your prayers and condolences for my sister, Valarie Cooper during her brutal 8 month battle with cancer and after her passing. She passed away on August 6th at Clovis Community Hospital. Pain gone and Heavenly home. Please keep her husband and granddaughter in your prayers for peace and comfort during this difficult time. Valarie was preceded in death by her daughter, Allison Daly. I appreciate everyone who reached out to me.

comforted as Jesus shows them that room he said he would prepare for them. Read the scriptures and ask God to speak to you through those readings. Take periods of time when you can be alone and just listen for God to speak to you. He will, I promise you. If you give him a chance to get a word in edgewise, he will speak to you. Pray each day that you want to hear from him, then be quiet. Pray that God will give you direction. Pray that he will lead your steps. Ask him to give you opportunities to serve others. Pray that he will give you courage to follow him.

Praying has at least two effects. One is that it draws you closer to him. Another is that it gives him an opportunity to draw closer to you. Pray that God will give you strength to get through the day.

The more you give yourself to the practice of prayer the more you are going to feel God's presence in your life. What could be better than feeling God in your life every day. Join groups that begin and end with prayer. Immanuel offers online prayer communities they offer second Sunday after church prayer groups. Every month Chimes offers prayer focuses for the week.

Your Pastor would love to pray with and for you. Catch a deacon before or after service and ask them to pray with you, we are sworn to confidentiality. The church has an online prayer chain, sign up with Victoria to be included in that.

The grieving process is hard. But the grieving process is made easier with prayer. Pray when you are sad and lonely and pray when you are happy and feeling full of memories that make you smile. Include God in every step of the day. It's literally why God created us, to be in relationship with him. Prayer helps us fulfill the reason we were created.

I will pray with you anytime. Email me at deaconofbutter@yahoo.com. Call me 559-930-4812.

As always, I love you
John.

This school year Immanuel will prepare and serve on November 29, December 6, 13, March 20, April 3, 10, 17, 24. If you would like to help prep and serve lunch on any of these dates please contact Ericka Gardner.

Please continue to pray for our youth ministry in Easton as we continue to look for youth ministry opportunities with Easton Presbyterian church. Wednesdays from 12:25-1:00PM would be a great time to come to Immanuel even if it isn't our turn to serve. High school is hard, this is a perfect opportunity to show the students that we are the church and we care about them. It can be as simple as just asking their name and sharing yours. A strong handshake and a smile comforts all who receive. Most importantly a connection to God through the smile in your eyes fills everyone's heart, even teenagers. Try it once, then try it twice.

Prayer Focus for the Week

Week of 9-4-2023. Focus on the labors we are given. Colossians 3:23/24 NIV. Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart, as working for the LORD, not for human masters, since you know that you will receive an inheritance from the LORD as a reward. It is the LORD Christ you are serving.

Week of 9-11-2023. Focus on forgiveness. Ephesians 4:32 NIV. Be kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other, just as Christ God forgave you.

Week of 9-18-2023. Focus on praising God. Psalms 26:13 NIV. My feet stand on level ground; in the great congregation I will praise the LORD.

Week of 9-25-2023. Focus on working together in community, Caruthers Fair. 1 Corinthians 12:6 NIV. There are different kinds of working, but in all of them and in everyone it is the same God at work.

Easton Community Water Meeting from 6:30-8:00 PM on October 3rd in the Immanuel Social Hall Hosted by Self Help Enterprises

Self Help Enterprises (SHE) is currently working with 85 disadvantaged communities in the San Joaquin Valley assisting them in providing reliable, safe and affordable drinking water to all their members. As a Community Development Specialist, we are catalysts in seeking funding and providing technical assistance to communities working towards community-wide and permanent safe water solutions.

Goal for Easton:

With current drought conditions, perhaps it is time to reassess Easton's water status. Many domestic wells in the area are going dry and many have numerous types of contaminations. At the meeting we would like to hear from local residents about how they feel about their water.

Would they consider a community-wide water project as a solution? As a community member, what is their solution to Easton's water status. Do they believe there is even an urgent enough issue to deal with Easton's Water. The overall purpose of the meeting is to get a feel for the community's sentiment on proceeding with a water project. We would also present the idea of forming a community committee that will facilitate communications with SHE Staff, project consultants and the Easton community. Volunteers for the committee would also help with surveying the community and other outreach efforts.
